RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the

ship, has been put in Wake jail on a charge of trespass and assault. Secretary Beddingfield of the State Alliance reports that ninety-four counties in the are now organized. The J. E. F. F. Quartette Club will render some fine music at the Demonight. The Rev. W. M. Clark has returned to the city, and will officiate at the Church of the Good Shepherd to-day, morning and night. He will continue his confirmation addresses at night.

The Wake Forest and Raleigh baseball clubs had a crossing of bats at Athletic Park yesterday. The game was a picnic and a "walkover" and "jump on you" and every thing else for Wake Forest. The score was 37 to 5 in favor of Wake Forest.

Just watch 'em, and you can easily spot a man now who is thinking of becoming a candidate for some office at the coming election. Notice how anxious he is to speak to you cordially; and you may also notice how desperately anxious he is to get off a joke success-

Let the ladies remember that the Governor's Guard are hoping that many of them will attend the meeting to be held at the residence of Mrs. Chas. S. Allen, on Monday evening at four o'clock for the purpose of arranging for the Guard's fair beginning April 29th.

The news that shad are running by vited. Milburnie, in Neuse river, is stirring up the sportsmen of the rod and seine. Yesterday was not much of a fishing day,

INJUNCTION CASE.

The D. & N. vs. The N. C. and O. & C. Roads -- A Hearing at Chambers Before Judge Armfield.

An injunction case was argued in this city yesterday before judge Armfield at chambers. The case concerns the Durham & Northern, the North Carolina, and the Oxford & Clarksville railroads. About three weeks ago the Supreme court dismissed proceedings of the Durham & Northern road, by which that company sought to condemn the right-of-way of the North Carolina rest contest entertainment on Monday road, from the electric light house to Durham, over which the Durham & Northern had already built its track, known as the "moonrhine" track, because it was built in the night time.

This proceeding is for an injunction to the hearing to prevent the North Carolina and Oxford & Clarksville roads from tearing up the D. & N. track, while the new condemnation proceedings are pending. The counsel appearing for the N. C. and O. & C. roads were: Judge Schenck, Maj. W, A. Guthrie and Mr. F. H.

Col. J. W. Hinsdale and Batchelor & Devereux appeared for the D, & N.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

CHRONICLE BUREAU. DURHAM, N. C.,

April 19, 1890. The building committee of Trinity College met at the office of Mr. B. N. Duke yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All the members were present except Messrs. J. S. Carr, R. T. Gray, were submitted by several members and were thoroughly discussed. Duke's factory, on Peabody street, in It was finally decided to have a building with two hundred feet front, and a wing on each side 100 feet back. These plans were turned over to General Boggs, a graduate of West Point, and quite a distinguished architect, with instructions to make a drawing for such a building. It was decided to expend fifty thousand dollars, and if necessary ten thousand dollars more in such a building. This building will contain forty dormitories, besides recitation rooms and chapel. Mr. W. Duke was instructed to give contracts immediately for six hundred thousand brick.

LEE'S STATUE

To be Admitted Free of Duty. (By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 19 .-- Assistant Secretary Batcheller to-day instructed Collector Erhardt, at New York, in reference to a request from Governor Me-Kinney, of Virginia, to admit, duty free, the several boxes containg the statue of General Robert E. Lee. The instructions also provide that the statue may be re-shipped to sichmond, Va., in bond, and if the several boxes are so packed as to be easily inspected, they are not to be opened at New York.
